

CALL FOR PAPERS

The 12th International Conference on Internet (ICONI 2020)

December 13-16, 2020, Jeju Island, Korea

www.iconi.org

Overview

The 12th International Conference on Internet (ICONI 2020) will be held on December 13-16, 2020, in Jeju Island, Korea. The primary goal of the conference is to provide researchers, practitioners, and students with the platform to share leading-edge knowledge and ideas in Internet Computing and related areas. Submitted papers will be subjected to a double-blind review process. All accepted papers will be published in the conference proceedings. Additionally, extended and revised versions of a short list of the papers presented at the conference will be selected for publication in a special issue of several international journals indexed by SCIE, SCOPUS, and ISI-Web of Science.

Today's pandemic is having a large impact on how the conference will be held. KSII is planning to make this conference possible both online and offline. Presenters who are physically unable to attend the conference venue can make virtual presentations using the online platform prepared by ICONI. This platform will allow presenters and attendees to interact, whether they are present physically or virtually.

For those who can attend the conference venue in person, Jeju Island, the site for ICONI 2020, lies in the Korea Strait, below the Korean Peninsula. Jeju Island features the volcanic Hallasan commanding the island from the center, a 224-kilometer semi-tropical forested national park, a wild coastline dotted with waterfalls and the longest lava tube in the world. These make Jeju one of the most popular holiday destination in Korea. Take this opportunity to explore and encounter full of hidden gems waiting to be discovered.

Please come join us for ICONI 2020 whether you will be visiting Jeju Island in person or attending the conference virtually.
